DECLARE WAR ON THE I.R.A.!

RIDLEY: National Front OK

IRA VICTIM: The wrecked van in Wembley in which Sgt. Chapman died.

★ HANG IRA TERRORISTS
★ SEAL OFF THE BORDER WITH THE REPUBLIC
★ SCRAP THE ANGLO-IRISH AGREEMENT

ON MONDAY 14th MAY IRA terrorists bombed the Headquarters of the Directorate of Army Education in Eltham, South London. Seven people were injured by the bomb which was buried in a flower-bed.

The bombing of this soft target is a further act of war by the IRA against Britain and the British people. It follows the bombing of the Royal Marine Barracks in Deal, Kent on 22nd September last year when ten young bandsmen were blown to pieces.

Every day in Ulster loyal British subjects are under attack from the murder gang of the IRA. It is only when bombings happen on the mainland that we can sample what the people of Ulster have to put up with.

Action must be taken now against the IRA. Our soldiers must be put on a war footing in Ulster and eradicate the IRA gunmen. If we can do it in the Falklands we can do it in Northern Ireland.

The National Front is the only political party in Britain that is pledged to defeat the IRA. Tories, Labour and Liberal politicians will all eventually give in to these murderers.

The National Front pledges to:

- Scrap the Anglo-Irish Agreement.
- Seal off the border with the Republic.
- Hang IRA Terrorists.
- Give our soldiers the will and resources to eradicate the IRA once and forever from Britain.

The IRA don't care who they kill. It can be young bandsmen or innocent civilians. The purpose of their killing is to make British people weary of the death and destruction and to capitulate to their demands.

Britain must never give in to the IRA. We owe it to all those who have suffered at the hands of these murderers that we defeat them.

Ridley OK on NF & Co

THE NATIONAL Front is now registered as a limited company after Trade Secretary Nicholas Ridley gave the go-ahead for the Front despite a campaign by NUPE to bully him into refusing the application.

DILEMMA

The National Front was forced into registering as a company as the only solution to a growing dilemma facing the Party, that of bogus groups setting themselves up as 'The National Front'.

In the Vauxhall by-election last year, a £1,000 campaign was turned into a farce after a crank using the title National Front stood against NF candidate Ted Budden.

FULL FORCE

Now the problem has been solved. Anyone using the name National Front or the NF symbol will face the full force of company and copyright law.

LABOUR SHOW THEIR TRUE FACE IN WIGAN!

THE NATIONAL Front well and truly defeated the Wigan Labour party in the democracy stakes on Sunday 20th May.

Kinnock's designer socialists on Wigan Council had showed all their Communist tendencies when they refused to accept the NF booking for a rally at Wigan Town Hall.

NF CHAIRMAN: Ian Anderson

Not to be put off the NF booked a suite in a plush hotel on the outskirts of the town and announced the fact to the local press. The media loved the fact that someone was cocking a snook at Wigan Council and NF Chairman Ian Anderson and Wigan Organizer Dave Sudworth were extensively interviewed over the NF's plans including a lengthy report on Radio Manchester.

On the day, Kinnock's designer socialists again revealed their true Stalinist colours as 150 dregs from the gutter ran amok in Wigan attacking anyone who looked like they were vaguely patriotic. But, despite this, and with the help of a very obliging Greater Manchester Police Force, the rally went ahead attended by over 80 supporters mainly from the North-West, raising £250 for the National Front and sowing the seeds for new NF branches in Lancashire.

WE SHALL NOT BE MOVED: Despite the problems the meeting goes ahead.

Getting Ready for the Chinese Invasion

FIVE YEAR-old children at Fairchild Infants School in Croydon are being taught Chinese.

It's all part of a scheme to give our children 'a better insight into another nation' and entails an 'international exchange of teachers'.

Of course its all preparation for the forthcoming invasion of our country by 250,000 Chinese from Hong Kong which will presumably give Britain an even closer 'insight into another nation'.

Perhaps the Chinese exchange teachers could help the NF with a little translation? Something along the lines of 'Hong Kong Chinese - Stay out of Britain!'.

Tandoori Louts

ON THURSDAY, April 26th Blackpool seafront was ravaged by over 2,500 rampaging youths. The resort was brought to a standstill as gangs of youths rioted on the promenade.

Pensioners and mothers with young children scattered as the youths, many swigging whisky from bottles and clearly the worse for alcohol, held impromptu car races up and down the front.

Who were the young louts? Mods? Rockers? Skinheads? No, they were Asians from all over East Lancashire, celebrating the end of the Muslim festival of Ramadan.

So much for the "quiet, law-abiding" racial stereotype!

Tandoori Take-Away

WHEN Hyndburn, Lancashire Councillor Mrs. Betty Court revealed that services provided by the Council solely for Asian Immigrants were putting £2 a head on the local poll-tax, what was the response of the Council's ruling Labour group?

Answer: To spend even more local money on a survey to find out what the town's Asians thought of these services, and to see if there was anything more the Council could do for them!

Cracking Down on Crack?

CUSTOMS DRUG seizures rose 39% last year to a record street value of £259 million.

While it would be comforting to think that the higher seizure rate means that the customs are getting on top of the situation, the reality is that drugs getting through the customs increase by 39% as well!

NF Branches in Coventry & North London have led the way in exposing . . .

IRA POISON IN OUR SCHOOLS

BRITISH SCHOOLCHILDREN AT Barr's Hill School, Coventry are being subjected to IRA propaganda justifying and supporting the murder of British soldiers as part of their GCSE Humanities coursework.

As part of their GCSE work, the children, some with relatives in the Army under IRA gunfire in Ulster, have to read and answer questions on a booklet, "Ireland and the Army", produced by the school. The booklet is straightforward Provisional IRA propaganda. It includes slabs taken directly, without comment or criticism, from the IRA's Republican News, (without making it clear that this is the IRA's official newspaper), gloating over the IRA murder campaign, and cartoons from the same IRA hate-sheet by Provo cartoonist Cormac.

The school coursebook also includes such choice IRA poetry as;

"British Soldier when you die,
the dogs will bury you.
Go Home Soldier, Your presence here destroys the air, your smile disfigures us.
Go Home Soldier, Before we send you home. Dead!".

After wading through this hate material, portraying our soldiers in Ulster as alien invaders who deserve to die, the pupils are tested on their reactions thus:

Question 3a. What views do the cartoons drawn by Cormac give of British troops in Northern Ireland? (3 marks).
Question 3b. Account for these views (2 marks).

In an exam on Friday 20th October 1989 at 10.45am children were shown the poem 'Go Home Soldier' along with a similar offering 'Bomb Disposal', threatening to blow up our troops and then asked:

Question 1. What view of British soldiers is shown in the two poems? (3 marks)
Question 2. How useful are the poems in our understanding of the attitudes of the entire Northern Irish population towards the British troops?

(Answering "Not very, since over two-thirds of the Northern Irish population welcome these troops, see themselves as British as the Coventry schoolkids, and would like the poems' author locked up as a supporter of IRA murder" seems unlikely to get these 3 marks!)

Finally pupils are asked whether they think the British Army should be in Ulster. Copies of this IRA hate propaganda were leaked from the school by outraged parents to the local NF and to East Belfast Loyalist Councillor Robin Newton.

Confronted on the subject, Barrs Hill Head Kevin Scott at first refused to comment. Then he admitted that the IRA propaganda "had been used for many years as part of pupils GCSE history courses". He said that the IRA's Republican News wasn't the only paper quoted (true - there are Daily Mirror editorials calling for our troops to be withdrawn and Guardian letters critical of the Army). Scott said his terrorist hate screed was "a perfectly honest attempt to put across the difficulties that the Army are facing in Northern Ireland"!!

SICK: More anti-British brain-washing from Tottenham Council.

Coventry Director of Education Michael Bennett, unbelievably, denied that there was any bias in the booklet. An invitation to Headmaster Scott to take a few days off from his Radford Road Barrs Hill School and explain his booklet personally to Cllr. Newton's East Belfast constituents has been declined for some reason! Cllr. Newton challenged Scott to "justify his booklet's use to the widows and orphans, the people who suffer for the actions and propaganda of the IRA". Scott preferred to stay in what he imagines is the safety of Coventry and egg the IRA on from the sidelines.

This case in Coventry is not the only example or teachers bombarding British school-children with IRA propaganda. A similar poisonous offering at Northumberland Park School in Tottenham, North London, led one furious parent to withdraw his 14 year old daughter from the offending lessons. The school's deputy head, Andy Woodcock, admitted tha the coursework was biased, but refused to discuss it further. A spokeswoman for Labour Haringey Council backed the IRA propaganda coursework, saying "it presents the views of the Government, the Unionists and Nationalists" (i.e. IRA supporters) "although perhaps the mix is not a fair cross-section".

Bombarding British children with propaganda justifying the actions of terrorist gangsters who murder their fathers and brothers as well as other schoolchildren in another part of Britain is vile beyond description. The National Front demands that the likes of Kevin Scott be banned from teaching as unfit by the Secretary of State for Education and prosecuted under the Prevention of terrorism Act for promoting the aims of a proscribed illegal terrorist organisation.

Failing that - and the Tory authorities at Westminster have so far done nothing to stop these cases of IRA propaganda in our schools despite the information being forwarded direct to Mrs Thatcher - parents at the schools affected should refuse to let their children be taught by scum like Kevin Scott.

SCUM: Headmaster Kevin Scott. He should be sacked for promoting the cause of the IRA.

IRA CARTOONS: From the IRA's own newspaper were used to 'educate' British schoolchildren.

SEGREGATE OUR SCHOOLS NOW!

OPINION POLLS have regularly confirmed that White people don't want their children to go to schools which have a high proportion of Black pupils. Now we are starting to see Muslim parents taking their children away from White schools so that they can keep their identity.

Last month it was confirmed that Cleveland County Education Authority had approved the transfer of Ali and Sharif Busnena from a White dominated school, the Thorntree Infants School, to one with a high intake of Muslims - Breckon Hill School.

JENNIFER CARNEY: Right to choose

Previously they had allowed White mother Jennifer Carney to transfer her daughter Katrice from a school after she had come home reciting Punjabi nursery rhymes. The headmistress of the school had said;

"It is not our job to instil into the children any one culture".

Lawyers consulted by Cleveland Education Authority have confirmed that under the 1980 Education Act it is the right of parents to move their children away from a school where there is a high immigrant population. Mr. Duncan McReddie, Chairman of Education, said;

"I think it is a particularly short-sighted decision and I wonder whether the ministers and civil servants understand the implications of what they are saying. The potential consequences are that where you have overtly racist parents they will admit to segregating their childen on the basis of colour".

So there we are - let's get on with it and segregate our schools NOW! The power is in your hands.

DISEASE IMPORTED FROM THE E.E.C!

A DISEASE that can cause skin abscesses and wasting away in people has been imported to Britain by the Common Market. The disease, Caseous Lymphad-enitis, entered the country in infected goats.

Because the diseased animals were covered by a West German veterinary certificate, under Common Market rules they had to be allowed into our country. Even though abscesses had been reported on the goats before they left West Germany and again at Southampton docks, the Ministry of Argiculture said because they were covered by a Euro-certificate "we saw no justification for detaining the animals".

Now ten Buckinghamshire farms have been placed under animal movement restrictions in a desperate bid to stop this serious disease - unknown in Britain until now - from spreading through our national goat herd, into sheep and then to people.

It is only a matter of time before this Euro-health hazard, helped along by the Channel Tunnel, lets a much more deadly disease loose on the British people - rabies!

Foreign Filth & Pervert Threat To Our Kids

THE 1992 "Single European Market" will put British children at risk from foreign perverts. That was the shock warning given on April 12th by Diane Core, Director of Childwatch, the national body which seeks to protect our children from paedophile perverts.

Mrs. Core warned that "The opening of the market in 1992 will open Britain as a dumping ground for pornographic material" - notably the sort of sick kiddie-porn for which Amsterdam is a world centre. This in turn will, the childrens' charity chief pointed out, "mean a greater number of rapes of women and children and will also allow a lot more paedophiles from Europe into the country".

Already, there is disturbing evidence that British children are being used by foreigners to make their filthy films.

IN THE SEVENTIES: It was pornographic films - In the 90's its books & videos

A flood of foreign filth and perverts was not among the consequences of "going into Europe" highlighted by politicians when they conned the British people into voting "Yes" to the EEC in 1975. But now it looks certain to happen. Unless we protect our kids and get Britain out of the Common Market!

All Action in North London

LONDON NORTH NF achieved a total of twenty-two days of activity out of April's thirty days (not including days used for paperwork), and activity has continued at a high level into May.

In addition to the regular leafletting and stickering sessions, we have as usual devised some special activities to heighten interest: and we have remembered our fallen comrades.

On Sunday 6th May, Robert Nash placed a wreath on the gates of High Cross School, where Albert Mariner was fatally injured outside a National Front Election Rally in 1983.

On Wednesday 16th May a papersale was held in Hampstead and a stickering session in Highgate. The papersale was held outside Christ's Church in Hampstead, where a meeting entitled 'The Greening of Ourselves' was due to be addressed by the Reverend John Papworth. A local policeman arrived shortly after we began, and he was clearly confused by the incursion of London NF into sleepy Hampstead!

The stickering session was targeted at the area of Highgate because of the presence there of the Soviet Trade Delegation. As the local branch had produced its own propaganda supporting the Baltic States we felt sure that the Trade Delegation would appreciate seeing the fruits of our labours.

ROBERT NASH: With the wreath placed on the gates of High Cross School.

Admin Report

by Tina Wingfield

FOR THE last couple of months we have been telling you what we intended to do. Now I can tell you what we have done!.

We have bought a 17-seater minibus and we have bought a computer. The minibus was used for the first time for the Wigan Rally and the computer, at the time of going to press, is being programmed with all the relevant data.

Yes, almost overnight the National Front has updated itself to meet the challenges of the 1990s. For a growing organisation it is vital that we function efficently and do not let the fact that our numbers are increasing daily bog us down in a bureaucracy.

Touch wood, the changeover seems to be going smoothly, but the bad news is that additional assets for the National Front mean more expense for the Administration Dept. The service contract on the computer and the insurance for the minibus are two huge payouts we have just had to make. These payments come out of Admin Funds which, in the main, are replenished by the Friends of the Front contributions. More expenses mean we need more Friends of the Front! Please, if you can join the scheme and contribute £5.00 a month, every month to the National Front then write to me, Tina Wingfield, at P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG.

Sixty Seats at the General Election!

by Ian Anderson

THE NEXT GENERAL Election will be held in between 12 and 24 months from now. The Conservative Party will, no doubt, stage its normal trick of giving a short-term boost to the economy as the date looms on the horizon.

The other main parties, Labour and Liberal Democrat, will be trying to convince the British public that they offer something even approaching a credible alternative to Thatcherite Conservatism. If the Green Party still exists after its drubbing in the recent local elections then it will simply be trying to hang on and save the odd deposit.

All in all not a great choice for the British people.

That just leaves the National Front to offer a real alternative to the voters. Fighting elections is when the National Front puts itself on the line - sometimes the results are not pleasant; however recently they have been showing signs of improvement.

In the April Issue of The Flag I said that our election results seemed to have turned the corner and were starting to climb again. Our May local election results confirm this trend.

We must now take seriously the next General Election. The National Directorate of the National Front has decided that we should aim to field 60 candidates.

This will prove a real test of our determination, our organisation and our ability - we must not be found wanting.

The election offers two real opportunities. First of all as Britons we must do everything possible to stop the spread of multiracialism, internationalism and all the other evils that beset our country.

A resurgent, rejuvenated National Front will frighten the old parties and they will revert to the traditional method of appeasement - there will be some slow down in immigration, less money will be thrown at gay, lesbian and ethnic groups, slightly less industry will be sold to foreigners, the surrender of sovereignty to Brussels will also be slowed.

This may seem insignificant but any slow down in the spread of such evils as multiracialism provides us with more time to build a movement capable of providing genuine salvation for the British people. There is nothing so effective as a good National Front vote in stopping race mixing.

For members of the National Front an equally important opportunity is to provide a real boost to the growth of the NF. 60 candidates will enable us to distribute approximately 2 million election leaflets and it will show that once again we are right back on the main political stage.

It will also provide us with access to television and radio. Above all else it should provide us with thousands of new supporters and members.

If we are to achieve our target then every single member and evey single branch will have to play their part. All branches, even the smallest, will have to field a candidate, some will have to field two or even three. Each candidate will cost approximately £1,000; if reasonable results are to be obtained then each constituency must be completely leafletted over the next two or three months to build up support.

This is a real test for the National Front, a test for which we must work hard, but a test which we absolutely must not fail! So let's get to it - staight away.

Branches!
Get your candidates adopted NOW and send The FLAG the details. Operation 60 candidates is now under way!

DUDLEY NF SHOW UP OTHER BRANCHES

WELL DONE Andrew Nolan and the Dudley Branch of the National Front for their excellent effort in the local elections. Andrew polled a credible 238 votes in Dudley, a very healthy 6.4% of the vote which would mean a saved deposit at the General Election.

The West Midlands NF branch put its larger neighbours to shame by showing that you don't have to be the biggest branch to be the best.

The NF May election results:

DUDLEY:
Labour 2,211
Conservative 1,242
Andrew Nolan (NF) . 238 (6.4%)

Lye & Wollescote:
Labour 2,847
Conservative 854
Liberal 375
John Lord (NF) 106 (2.6%)

Solihull
Conservative 2,629
Labour 1,131
Liberal 719
Norman Tomkinson (NF) ... 62

South Morley (Leeds)
Labour 5,857
Conservative 1,858
Liberal 803
Nigel Howard (NF) . 109 (1.3%)

A pat on the back for those candidates who stood and all those who helped with the campaigns. A special mention to Peter Taylor who put out 4,000 leaflets in South Morley in 24 hours all on his lonesome. Well Done Peter!

Mid Staffs P.O.Box

THE EFFORTS of the NF in the Mid Staffordshire by-election are now beginning to bear fruit. A Post Office box has been opened in Cannock and local activitists from the constituency are getting together to organise papersales in Rugeley, Lichfield and Stone.

Memberships, FLAG subscriptions and requests for more information are still coming in from the constituency 3 months after the NF finished campaigning!

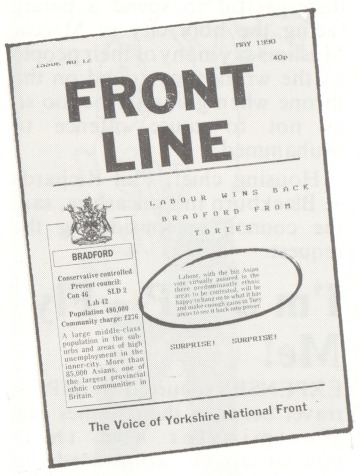
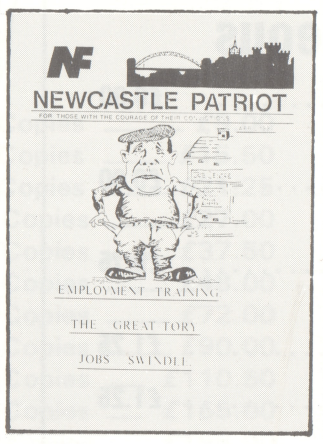
Best of the Branch Bulletins





LOCAL NATIONAL Front bulletins are becoming more and more professional. Top of the list is Front Line the voice of Yorkshire National Front. The 16 page bulletin is cram-packed with news, views and items of interest. Produced on a word processor it is a great credit to the National Front.

It's a close run thing for the second best bulletin between Newcastle and Bristol while London Times the newsletter of London North NF is our tip for the top in coming months.

Why not keep in touch with the National Front in those areas and support a local branch bulletin. Just send a donation to the addresses on page 7 and the branch concerned will send you a copy of their bulletin.

SERVING UP SALMAN

SALMAN RUSHDIE is a wicked villain, head of a huge international network and commanding a personal army, rather on the lines of a James Bond film.

He lives in a well-fortified palace in a mountainous terrain and is supported by an Israeli army general in his war against Islam. He is involved in every crime from gambling to murder!

Yes, the author Salman Rushdie has a double life if you are to believe a new £2.3 million, 3 hour Punjabi/Urdu thriller that is currently taking Pakistan by storm.

The film is showing to packed audiences and there has already been deaths as people fight for tickets.

In the end, according to the script, Rushdie is gunned down by Pakistani guerrillas.

The real blockbuster will of course be when the Asian community in Britain demands the film be shown here. Seeing the Government wriggle out of that one should make compelling viewing.

BOOK BURNERS

PENGUIN, as predicted by 'The FLAG' six months ago, have dropped plans for a paperback version of 'The Satanic Verses'. Bomb threats, abusive letters, attacks on staff and the cost of increased security have finally worn down the publishers who at the beginning of the whole affair had stated that they would 'never give in to the book burners'.

British Birds in Decline

INTENSIVE AGRI-business farming methods are wiping out Britain's birds. That was the conclusion of the report Population Trends in British Breeding Birds, based on British Trust for Ornithology annual bird surveys from 1961 to the present day.

The hacking down of ancient hedgerows - financed by Government and Common Market hand-outs - and indiscriminate use of poisonous chemicals have hit British birds hard, the report concludes. The corn bunting and linnet - a bird famed for its sweet singing- have declined by half since 1981, and the skylark is down by 50% since the late 1970's.

The linnet's decline, and that of the mistle thrush, are due to agri-businessmen shifting from spring to autumn sowing, eliminating winter stubble, an important source of food for birds.

Chemical herbicides are. to blame for the decline in numbers of the greenfinch and grey partridge.

The National Front has always campaigned vigorously against the replacement of the traditional British family yeoman farmer by the agri-business combines and merchant banks who have taken over our countryside, turning it into a prairie, and ultimately a dustbowl, in the ruthless quest for a fast buck.

We also champion natural, organic farming, which not only preserves the wildlife of our land but also achieves higher sustainable yields over the long term.

If we are not heeded, and the despoilation of our homeland by big business is allowed to go on as it is, the Silent Spring, bereft of birdsong, forecast by Rachel Carson thirty years ago, will not be long in coming.

Front Demands: Halt This Holocaust!

THE CAPERCAILLIE, the bigest grouse in the world, is in danger of being wiped out in Scotland by foreign "sportsmen", the House of Lords was told on April 15th.

Lord Sanderson of Bowden, Minister of State at the Scottish Office, admitted that, thanks to shooting, the number of these imposing giant grouse had plummeted from 10,000 in Scotland in the early 1970's to under 2,000 today.

As Lord Taylor of Gryfe pointed out "The birds are not being shot for eating, but simply for trophies, by some of our European friends who come over to shoot in Scotland."

The Minister replied that the Government was not happy about the situation and was thinking about possibly doing something about it, eventually.

UNDER THREAT: The Capercaillie

By which time the capercaillie, one of Britain's biggest and most spectacular birds, will probably have been wiped out. As with the peregrine falcon, whose plight we reported in our March issue, British wildlife is being sacrificed to entertain foreigners.

A substantial proportion of the 2.2 million birds of all species shot for "sport" in Britain last year fell to foreign guns, often invited to blast away at our wildlife by City firms and multi-national corporations, who have bought up much of our moorlands.

The National Front demands a halt to this holocaust. What foreigners do to their own wildlife may be their affair. but they have no right - and should not be allowed - to come over here and massacre ours. Foreign guns should be banned from our fields and moorlands.

MEN OF STEEL: At the turn of the century Britain's steel industry was producing half of Europe's needs.

When British Steel Ruled!

IT IS adding insult to injury that a nail hammered so comprehensively into the coffin of the British Steel Industry by the closure of the Ravenscraig strip mill at Motherwell with the loss of 700 jobs should be followed by another - the news that the Japanese might buy up the remains of Britain's steel industry.

Of course it won't be the first time British steel workers have been employed by the Japs. During the last war many Sheffield foundrymen found themselves working on the Burma Railway. Who would have believed that 50 years on and in spite of winning the war British steelmen would once again be working for the Japs..

In the mid-19th Century Sheffield was producing half the steel in Europe.

The industry had started 100 years earlier when watch and clockmaker Benjamin Huntsmen turned steelmaker because he was dissatisfield with the steel he was buying and his 'crucible' process was soon imitated by neighbouring steelmakers.

By the end of this century the industry will be all but dead and any thing that's left will be owned by the Japs.

Paying Through the Nose for Coffee

A VIRTUAL monopoly of the British instant coffee market is leading to British consumers being grossly overcharged.

Although world coffee prices have dropped to their lowest level for 14 years, prices in the shops have not fallen in proportion. Profiteering has reached the level that we are being charged three times more than we should be for a jar of instant coffee.

Of the 100 million cups of coffee drunk every day by Britons, half are supplied by the Swiss-based Nestle multinational. Another foreign multinational, Kraft General Foods, owners of Maxwell House, Cafe Hag, and Kenco, has a further 21% of the £575 millon instant coffee market.

Whilst small suppliers charge as little as 64p for a 100-gram jar of coffee, reflecting the price all suppliers pay for coffee plus a fair trading profit, the big multinationals use their nearly three-quarters share of the market to hike prices to as much as £2.60 for the same 100-gram jar.

Their vast and extortionate profits enable them to further squeeze out their smaller rivals by massive, heavily-funded TV advertising campaigns.

The rip-off has reached such a proportion that even the Tory Government, although financed by multinationals itself, has ordered a Monopolies and Mergers Commission enquiry. A move described by Nestle as "unnecessary and unjust".

But as the beer barons found, monopolists have little to fear from the MMC. The Tories will not damage the interests of their paymasters, however much it costs the ordinary Briton.

Only the National Front will break up the monopolies and bar foreign multinationals like Nestle and Kraft from Britain altogether - putting cheaper produce on your shop shelves.

Who said the Police never win?

Rising Crime

VIOLENT ASSAULTS on Greater Manchester's Policemen and women rose 16% in 1989.

The catalogue of victims include one officer who had a motor cycle driven at him, another who was battered on the head with a crowbar and at least three officers who were left with broken noses after being head butted.

The total number of assaults was 1,067.

Dead Expensive

THE COST of burial has soared by 24% in the last 12 months.

The basic cost of a burial is now £638 and £533 for a cremation. Extras, such as funeral cars, death certificate, headstone, gravediggers fees put the overall average cost to £920 for a burial and £712 for a cremation.

The sharp rise in price is due to the huge French Funeral Firm, Alco Lyonaise, buying up small British funeral businesses and then putting up costs.

Extra Expensive Con

BRITAIN WILL contribute a net £4.6 billion to the EEC for 1990 - 15% of its total income.

Without the £1.7 billion 'abatement' compensating Britain for its disproportionately low receipts from the farm budget, the contribution would have been 20.6% of the total.

Facing up to Mecca?

MUSLIMS HAVE asked a council, planning to renovate their homes, to turn their toilets around.

Under Muslim religion it is disrespectful to spend a penny facing the holy city of Mecca. Muslims say many of their people sit the wrong way round on the throne when going to the loo so as not to cause offence to Muhammed.

Housing chief, Phil Richards at Blackburn in Lancashire, said the council is considering the request.

I'm a MP - Fly Me!

EXPENSES incurred by MPs in travel between their homes and Westminster and their constituences amounted to £5,913,667 during the last financial year.

That's nearly £10,000 a year for each MP - £200 a week on travel alone, more than what many Britons actually earn in a week.

Talk about on the gravy train - or more likely gravy plane!

American Scouts Show The Way!

AMERICAN SOCIETY is in deep trouble and this has now even effected such institutions as the Boy Scouts.

Their new manual warns that Boy Scouts should beware of escorting old ladies across the road - in case they are child molesters in disguise.

The manual also contains other items for the modern American Boy Scout such as advice on 'AIDS and other venereal diseases'.

In Britain the Girl Guides and Brownies have been given American-style uniforms. Let's just hope that's all they will be getting from America.

Racial Tension Down Under

ONE IN four people living in Australia will be of Asian origin within the next 50 years.

It is 20 years since the 'White Australia' policy was abandoned as an instrument to preserve the pre-war Anglo-Saxon culture of the country and now that suicidal decision has brought the chickens home to roost!

Well I Never!

WHAT A coincidence. On the day that the Save the Children Fund published a report detailing the murder of 159 Palestinian children under the age of 16, by the Israeli Army in the last 24 months - 250 Jewish graves were daubed with paint in France.

Guess which item got the most coverage. The murders or the graffiti. Well, it was no contest was it?

Quiz of the Week

THIS IS Rabbi Joseph Sitruk. He's grieving. Now is he grieving because:

a) 159 Palestinian Children have been brutally murdered by his fellow countrymen, or

b) A few graves stones have been daubed with paint.

BRITAIN'S RAREST FRESHWATER FISH: The Artic Charr faces extinction because of Acid Rain.

ACID RAIN IS KILLING OFF THE ARCTIC CHARR

THE ARCTIC charr, one of Britain's rarest freshwater fish, is under threat from acid rain, it was revealed recently. The threat emerged from the results of a three-year study by Scotland's seven river purification boards of 145 upland streams throughout the country.

The study, sponsored by the Department of the Environment, found seven "particularly acidic" sites, 28 "suffering from acid episodes", and 42 "vulnerable to acidification".

The acid comes from sulphur dioxide and nitrogen oxide emissions from factories, powerplants and cars.

Of the seven worst-affected sites, two are streams flowing into Loch Doon, home of the last population of arctic charr in South-West Scotland. The 18-inch long, rather trout-like fish have suffered a tenfold rise in water acidity since the late 1970's, and now their numbers are falling.

The threat is worse because the charr in each lake are unique. The fish were left stranded in lakes around the uplands of Britain at the end of the last Ice Age, ten thousand years ago. Since then each isolated lake's charr have developed their own individual colours and other characteristics.

The mountain lakes they live in are, as the Scottish study shows, especially vulnerable to acid rain.

Unless drastic action is taken to clean up acid rain emissions, as the National Front demands, these fascinating and ancient fish, unique to each lake they live in, will be wiped out forever.

What's My Line

MY NAME is Louis Miles and I'm Black.

I have just been sentenced to 17 years in prison for armed robbery.

I lived in the Hilltop Club in North London which I obtained by kicking out white pensioners who used to play bingo there.

I reached agreement with the Police that the Hilltop Club was a 'no-go' for them.

I have two other homes with gold-tapped sunken baths, I wear designer clothes, have the latest hi-fi equipment and I spend long holidays in Jamaica.

So what did I do for a living

I was a social worker with Brent Council!

Save Our Sausage!

NEW EEC legislation on raw minced meat will mean that the fresh British sausage will disappear from the British Breakfast table.

The bureaucrats in Brussels want all sausages to be either tinned frankfurters or smoked salami-type sausages.

Out of Control

IN 1984 experts predicted that the world's population would stabilise at around 10.2 billion. Later it was thought it would stabilise at 11 billion.

This year there is panic. Experts now predict that there is no stabilisation and the population is heading for 14 billion

The White population will rise 10% but the Black, Asian and Chinese populations will rise by 90% reports the United Nations Population Fund. In those countries the birthrate will be 3 births per second!

The effects on the environment of such a population boom poses immediate problems and unless a male sterilisation programme begins in the Third World the rest of us won't have a world in which to live.

The Battle for our Schools

A BRITISH education for British schoolchildren is set to become the political issue of the 1990s.

British parents, while they might mouth platitudes to their Asian neighbours because they fear the all powerful Race Relations lobby, will not take second best as far as their children's education is concerned.

The Education Act provides parents with the choice of moving their child to a school of their preference; and parents are doing just that. No self-respecting British mother and father wants their children brought up speaking Punjabi, dressing in saris and honouring Asian customs, so they are moving their children to White schools because it is their parental choice.

The Commission for Racial Equality says the Education Act must be changed because parents are moving their children for racialist reasons, and the Government appears to be ready to capitulate on the matter.

And that's when the next battle for Britain will begin. British parents won't compromise on the education of their children and the Race Relations lobby will find that they have a real battle on their hands as British family after British family stands up ready to be counted!

Who Needs Policies

IN 1980 I went to a meeting where British historian David Irving was discussing the possibility of launching a 'Christian Democratic Party' on the British political scene.

I ventured to ask him what the policies of this party would be. He answered "Policies, we don't have any policies, we just make the noises the British people want to hear".

I wasn't aware of it at the time but it appears Neil Kinnock was at that meeting, for Labour's new manifesto is devoid of polices and is just a collection of noises that Kinnock believes the British people want to hear.

There are the right noises on the Poll Tax, inflation, interest rates, the unions etc etc. But the document has nothing to say with regard to immigration.

Kinnock knows the British people want an end to coloured immigration yet he can't bring himself or the Labour Party to make that sort of noise, so he has just said nothing. With Labour, it appears, no noise is better than the wrong noise.

Greening the Birthrate

MONTH AFTER month we hear noises from politicians and the Green Lobby calling for action to be taken to preserve our environment.

No one disagrees with what they say and each green statement made is greeted with nods of approval. But they are just empty vessels making green sounds. No politican, be they Tory Labour or Liberal and no environmentalist be they Greenpeace or Friends of the Earth have mentioned the REAL threat to our environment - that of the population boom in the Third World.

Unless the birthrate rate in Asia, Africa and China is stemmed, all the saving of the rain forests and halting of CO^2 emissions will be of little use in saving our world.

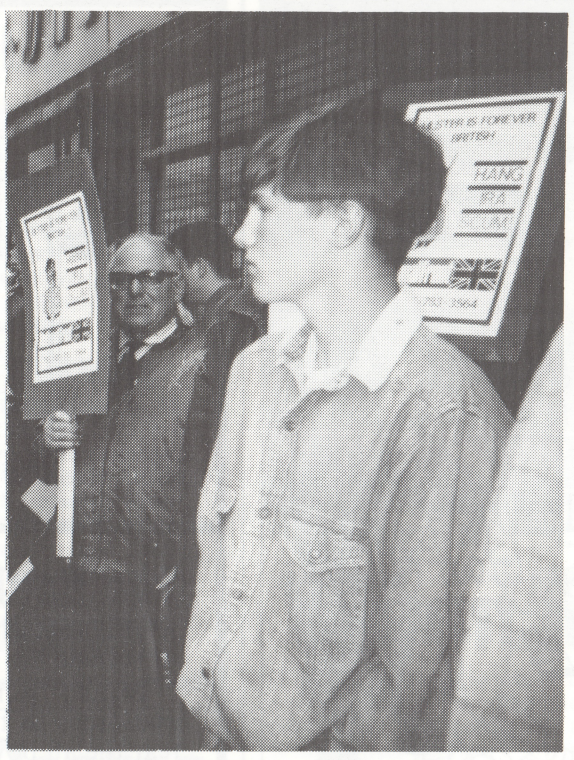
NOT THE IMAGE . . . .



THE MEDIA HAD . . . .

EXPECTED!

THE MEETING OF MINDS: NF Chairman Ian Anderson, who in his days at Oxford had debated with Pakistani President, Benazir Bhutto, uses his power of persuasion to get a NF viewpoint over to the Police.

NOT A HINT OF TROUBLE: For the second successive year the Birmingham Branch of the National Front marches through the city.

The Changing Face of the National Front!

. . . but the IRA rabble stays the same!

PAKISTANIS, INDIANS, & COMMUNISTS: The same old rabble crawls through Birmingham supporting the IRA - this year however they were outnumbered by the National Front!

THE NATIONAL Front has changed its image! It must be true because the BBC has said it! A TV reporter, his technicians and the camera crew working on a programme about the National Front's rise in the Midlands couldn't believe what they saw when they arrived at the venue where the National Front was preparing a counter-demonstration against the IRA.

There was young men and old men, young women and older women - people from all walks of life but united in the fact that they had given up their Saturday morning to oppose the IRA.

"It's a different face of the National Front to the one we were expecting" admitted the reporter.

While the image of the National Front had changed their dedicated opposition to the murderers of the IRA had not. It took three lines of Police to hold back the 80 strong NF contingent which outnumbered the Pakistani dominated IRA march.

Police later led a National Front march through the city which called on the British people to remember the victims of the IRA.

Which Market

DO YOU remember Nicholas Ridley? Well, of course you do. He is the chap who studied at the Tory Charm School and flunked.

He it was, you will recall, who was a man of iron resolve and stark economic realism when it was a matter of new housing encroaching on the Green Belt, brusquely dismissing the airy-fairy objections of environmentalists. It was this same Ridley, however, who became an environmental fanatic when it was suggested that a housing estate should be built within sight of his own home and who tried to close a public footpath because it ran within fifty yards of his second home; a fancy country mansion.

One can, of course, readily appreciate that the mere sight of uncouth common folk might well offend the fastidious Ridley eye, but then one might equally be forgiven for suspecting that he might just possibly hold the aforementioned common British folk in utter contempt.

This suspicion was heightened just recently when, in his new eminence as Minister for Trade and Industry, (a tough post for a Tory since they have failed miserably in the first and seem to despise the second), this Ridley person visited Japan. He was not there, as one might reasonably suppose, to warn the Japs of encroaching on our markets; quite the reverse. He was there to encourage the Japs to use Britain as the back door to Europe by seizing an even larger slice of British industry.

And what mouth-watering incentives did he offer the Japs in order that they might choose Britain as their European judas goat? Why, declared the Ridley, British workers are now the lowest paid of any European industrial nation. Furthermore, trades union legislation has so curbed the power of the unions that the British worker is virtually impotent. As for the worker's rights that other European nations have so mistakenly bestowed on their citizens; why, in Britain we don't believe in any of that kind of nonsense.

While he didn't actually say; "Come to Britain for the kind of cheap, broken-spirited coolie labour that you had on the Burma railway", it was probably only his infectious charm and innate good manners that stopped him.

So there you have it. The Tories are always telling us that we must all bow to the power of the market without actually specifying which market they mean. Clearly it's the slave market they have in mind.

Not Funny

I SUPPOSE you've all heard that appalling joke that's been going the rounds; the one about research laboratories giving up experimenting on rabbits and using Pakistanis instead - because they breed faster and one doesn't become fond of them.

I think that's disgusting, don't you?

Still, however much that affronts one's humanitarian instincts, I suppose one has to admit that Asians do breed faster than rabbits and that nobody seems to like them; apart from twittering Tories, that is, who are always rabbiting on about the rabbits - I mean the Patels - and how wonderful it is that they should set the lazy British such a good example by keeping their shops open all hours. A Tory, of course, is the type of person who can afford the enormous prices the Patels charge for being open all hours.

Despite the leftist conviction that anyone who is non-White and anti-White must belong to a Black brotherhood; nowhere is this loathing of Asians quite so deep-seated as it is in Africa. No sooner does the newest African dictator gain control and announce that his country is to be non-racial and anti-racialist, than he denounces the Asians as exploiters of the natives and boots them all out - usually in our direction.

In multi-racial S.Africa, for instance, race riots have been commonplace throughout the years; not between Blacks and Whites but between Blacks and Asians - the Blacks resenting the enormous prices the Asian traders charge for being open all hours.

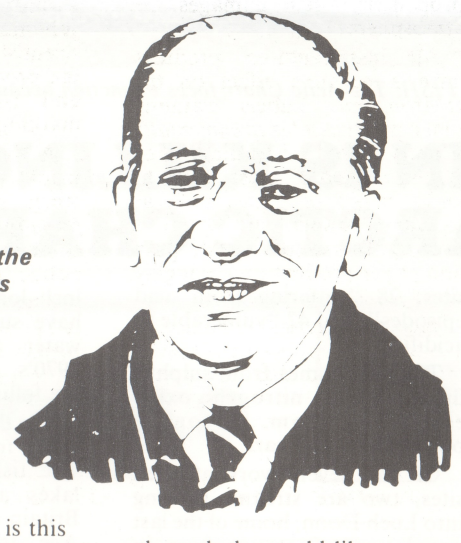
Asians are now appealing to the wicked S.African police for protection against the spate of rapes, muggings, arson and looting to which they're being subjected by their Black brothers.

So in the event of Black government in any part of S.Africa, we all know what will happen. Westminster perverts will bleat about the plight of the poor Asians and remind us that they are all former Commonwealth citizens for whom we have inescapable moral responsibility. For all I know they may all have the British passports that past Tory governments have scattered through the world like confetti.

After all, the Ugandan Asians were once said to be positively the final large scale immigration - that was before the infliction on Britain of Hong Kong Chinese was declared to be definitely the final one. Is there to be a final, final one? Or a final, final, final. . . . . .?

The Ted Budden Column

Ted Budden was a founder member of the National Front. In his column he gives his view of the world.



There's Glory

DO YOU remember when Spain was crushed beneath the iron heel of the wicked dictator General Franco? Remember how, in those days, British tourists would return from a Spanish holiday and say; "You can say what you like about old Franco, but Spain is a wonderful country. "The prices are so reasonable, the people so friendly, the streets are so clean and you can walk through them at night without the fear of being mugged - not like Britain at all".

Well of course Franco is long dead and Spain is wholly democratic - just like Britain. One is now as likely to be mugged in Barcelona or Bilbao as one is in Brixton - well, almost. Crime is rampant; murder and rape are commonplace; drug addicts fester their worthless lives away in squats; inflation is soaring - just like Britain.

These blessings of democracy come to mind when one considers the collapse of communism in Eastern Europe.

The proposed unification of East and West Germany, for example, now begins to look less like the fusion of twin souls than the layering of a compost heap. For one of the first acts of the newly democratised East German Government was to allow the West German pornography industry to establish "sex shops" in all the major East German towns and cities. This, our debauched media gleefully reports, has come as a profound culture shock to the prudish communists who have always officially frowned on such things.

However, a lot of East Germans are said to relish this new freedom. Ah yes! I wonder if they'll also relish the crime and the murder and the rape and the junkies that inevitably follow in Western freedom's wake?

For the East Germans have been fed on a diet of West German television and, like other East Europeans, seem to cherish a childlike belief that by the mere act of embracing something called "Western democracy", all the goodies they've seen on TV will drop into their laps. They appear not to realise that in a "market economy" there are not only winners but losers - lots of losers.

When they discover how much of real value they have lost and what they have got in exchange, will their new-found enthusiasm for "Western democracy" survive, I wonder?

The Acid Test

WE'VE ALL become accustomed by now to the spectacle of English sporting organisations being so dominated by the demands of sponsors that they will seek quick success at almost any price. This invariably results in the inclusion in "England" teams of just about every species of alien who lack the necessary qualifications of race, or birth, or ancestry or, indeed, any other rational definition of eligibility.

One of the most bizarre examples of this perversion is the decision to declare Chen Xinhua, a Chinese table tennis player who has already played in the national team of the Republic of China, as eligible to play for England; a decision that provoked England's No.1 player John Prean to refuse to represent England at international meetings. Three cheers for a man of principle.

All of which makes a nonsense of Norman Tebbit's asinine "cricken test"; his proposed means of gauging the loyalty of immigrants - which team do they cheer?

For I have news for him. I've been failing that test for years.

I do not thrill in the least to the world-beating exploits of some samboid athlete in an "England" vest.

I do not share in the shrill rapture of BBC commentators as they rhapsodise about "the superb skills" of John Barnes or any of the other dusky hoofers who 'represent' the "England" football team.

I was, moreover, delighted when the West Indies finally walloped a multi-racial assemblage called "England" on the cricket tour for I would much rather a team of genuine Sambos triumphed than a gaggle of ersatz "Englishmen".

Still, if Norman Tebbit can find me an England team composed of real Englishmen, I'll cheer for it, be they the worst sporting duffers in the history of international sport.

Till then I'll just continue cheering the Whites, whoever they are.

Inaccurate use of our Mother Tongue

BEING A lover and student of the English language, I am increasingly annoyed by the lax and inaccurate use of our mother tongue by politicans and journalists and other propounders of half-witted philosophies.

The term 'multi-racial' - as used to describe the society in which we live - is a prime example. In itself the expression promotes the suggestion that our society has achieved a state of happy homogeneity, which is palpably incorrect.

I suggest that 'hetero-racial' would be much more accurate.

For the benefit of the said politicians and journalists the dictionary definitions of 'hetero' are

a) different from type, abnormal, irregular

b) of more than one kind

Unfortunately, on second thoughts, I realise that to those with little knowledge of etymology the term might well have the connotation of normality - as when used in hetero-sexual. In any case, since most of my mixed bag of abhorred politicians and journalists spend most of their time in promoting the abnormal, they are likely to view 'hetero-racial' with the same degree of shrill indignation they manifest when speaking of racism.

And, by the way, what does that mean?

Only Serve to Damage the National Front

IN REPLY to Ted Budden's article in The FLAG entitled 'The Masters Now'. I don't approve of the anti-Semitism expressed in this article.

I fear such articles only serve to damage the National Front and give the impression that we are all sinister neo-Nazis.

I know that his views don't necessarily reflect NF policy but I wish to make it clear he does not represent my own.

Whatever crimes the Jewish people are supposed to have committed they paid for it in Hitler's concentration camps. Articles like this only serve to damage our cause and give our opponents material to harm us.

However I liked Ted's other articles especially the one on Bazoft. He talks sense in his column and I like it in general.

Come on let's cut out this unnecessary anti-semitism - it links us with Fascism and is one of the reasons the NF is unpopular at the polls.

The NF has got to rid itself of the Fascist image, it's like an albatross around our necks. We must build the NF into a serious political party of pure BRITISH Nationalism.

Excellent News

SPOT ON! - It was excellent news to read in The FLAG's April issue that the National Front has at last taken steps to get rid of the cranks and loonies from the Party.

British Nationalism has a real future in Britain today but it must be promoted by a party that it free from those people who want to link our Nationalism with German Nationalism of the 1930's.

It's facing up to the issues in Britain today where the NF is needed - not looking back fifty years raking over the ashes of the last war.

Going Soft on Communism?

IS THE National Front going soft on Communism? It would appear so, from what has been appearing in party publications recently.

First we have The FLAG crying about the late leader of Romania and now claiming that the Red Government of Afganistan is trying to bring that country into the modern age. Opposition to militant Islam should not bring us to support a Communist Government which for nearly a decade had Soviet troops to back it up.

Now Vanguard is at the same game. We are treated to a picture of the pre-war Communist Party and a caption advancing the theory that it had many intelligent people amongst its ranks. Funny, I thought the 1930s Communist Party was a mixture of homosexual Cambridge graduates who later betrayed their country, Jewish East Enders, and such well-known British workers as the upper-class Indian who was their MP in South London.

In addition there is a letter asking us to examine what we might gain from a fresh look at Marxism. The answer in short is nothing. We do not need the rantings of a penniless nineteenth century scribbler to tell us what is wrong with Capitalism.

Is all this a new departure for the Front? Have we forgotten who has been attacking our activities for twenty-three years? We must not forget that Communism is still a very real threat to Britain and the British people.

Television Matters

ON TUESDAY 15th May I put my television on to find a programme called Black on Blue. This programme featured Africans, West Indians and Asians who had joined the British police force.

The programme was obviously screened to keep Britain's immigrants happy that there were some of their kind in the force and to encourage more to join.

Britain doesn't need a multi-racial police force. We need a force of proud British men and women who are dedicated to preserving law and order in our country.

I HAVE been getting angrier and angrier over BBC's and ITV's promotion of Blacks as presenters of children's programmes. It is so blatantly obvious that it's a deliberate ruse to say 'look blacks are as British as you and me' and to get our kids to sub-consciously accept them as part of our way of life.

Well I'm not having my children brain-washed. My two girls Susan age five and Lucy age three know the score. As soon as a black presenter comes on they take great delight in telling me "Mummy it's a golly-wog on again - can we have the other side!".

It is criminal the way immigrants have been allowed to come to Britain without the British people being asked whether they wanted them or not, and it's sinister the way they are now being promoted in place of British people.

PLEASE CAN The FLAG lifts its ban on EastEnders. For well over a year now I have turned over or turned off when EastEnders came on because The FLAG ordered a ban on the programme because it tried to normalise homosexuals and Blacks and Asians.

My neighbour tells me that the queers and blacks have gone and the only immigrants included are the Asian family that took over the store. My neighbour also says that they are portrayed in a way that backs the National Front argument that Asians don't like the British way of life.

The FLAG exposes the . . .

Conservation Con-Trick!

IT'S BEEN called the Ozone Friendly Fraud and the Conservation Con-Trick. It's all about those little labels that now adorn numerous products, designed to reassure the public that what they are buying will not damage the environment.

The FLAG looks at the truth behind the so called greening of many products on sale in Britain's shops revealing the truth of those little labels.

★ Contains no nitrates! - Often seen on household cleaners. It's a con. You can't buy a cleaner which does contain nitrates!

★ Phosphate Free! - A label carried on washing-up liquid. It's a con. No washing-up liquid on sale in Britain contains phosphates.

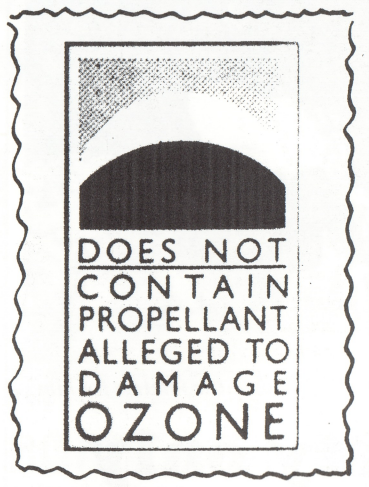
★ Biodegradable! - Seen on many detergent packets. It's a con. All detergents are biodegradable, they have to be by law.

★ This plastic is recyclable! - A favourite sticker for any plastic packaging. It's a con. The plastic might well be recyclable under a plastic recycling scheme but you try and find one. The package is just be thrown away and joins other household rubbish.

Aerosol cans are the favourite stamping ground for little green labels. The form of wording can take up to ten different slogans all claiming their greeness but the product inside was still near enough the same. Ozone Friendly and Ozone Safe areosols still contained hydrocarbons as a propellant which damages the atmosphere.

All manufactured products have a negative effect on the environment. Labels claiming that a product is 'environmentally friendly' are misleading. For example even if trees used to make paper products, such as sanitary towels, are from a properly managed forest, pulp and paper production are highly energy-intensive processes.

Electric batteries which do not contain the poisonous metals mercury or cadmium are a very inefficient way to use energy; it is estimated that manufacturing batteries takes up to 50 times more energy than the amount they produce.



The National Front believes there must be an end to the practice of conning the public into buying products by making fraudulent green claims

A National Front government would introduce a labelling scheme where Government scientists evaluated the effect of the product on the environment and issued a Green Factor marking that product.

A National Front government would ban the use of meaningless labels such as Environmentally friendly etc. and heavily fine any companies trying to mislead the public in this way.

The protection of the environment is the priority of any British Government a clear path of action must not be hampered by the lies and deceit of companies looking for a quick profit.

Fact or Fiction?

POLITICIANS CAN be too clever by far, and when they come a cropper it provides amusement for all.

Tory candidate for Bootle, James Clappison, thought he was being so clever when he brought in Coronation Street star William Roache to boost his campaign.

Unfortunately Roache, who plays Ken Barlow in the soap, didn't go down well and was attacked from all quarters for leaving his screen wife Deidre for another woman.

Yes it amusing to see a Tory prank fail. But is it so amusing to think that some of the voters of Bootle think Coronation Street really exists?

FLAG SELECTIONS

TWO RUNNERS, two winners was the record for May with Further Flight winning at 9-2 and Face North at 2-5.

For June it's Phanan and Just My Bill over 12 furlongs and Derby Cup over six furlongs.

Dennis Howell MP: You're a Bloody Liar!

PUBLICITY SEEKING Labour MP Denis Howell has tried to blame the National Front for the football violence at Bournemouth on the last Saturday of the season.

Howell's evidence appeared in a letter to a constituent. He claimed "You only have to read 'Bulldog' which is the official organ of the National Front to find them boasting about a league of violence headed by Leeds Utd".

Bulldog hasn't been published for TEN YEARS! and was never the organ of the National Front.

Howell also went on to claim the National Front were behind The Zulus a group of thugs who follow Birmingham. Howell obviously wasn't aware the Zulus as their name suggests are as black as the ace of spades.

Howell is just a bare-faced liar talking out of his backside.

GEOFF HURST MAKES IT 4-2: Richard Wiggins explains why England's exploits in Italy hold little interest for him

Memories of 1966 - My only interest in Italy this summer

WORLD CUP '90

I'LL BE watching the World Cup this summer in Italy but my heart will be back in Britain in 1966 when a real England team conquered the world.

Football has changed so much since those halcyon days and changed for the worse.

I cannot support an England team that has foreigners playing for it. It defeats the whole purpose of the World Cup. If we are going to cheat, and cheating is what it is, then let's go the whole hog and get Maradona, Hulitt and a couple of those useful Germans playing in our team.

English born and bred should be the qualifications for any England team, and the dictionary definition of bred is "Race, strain, hereditary qualities" - hereditary qualities of England - not the West Indies.

And They Battled On . . .

"WE BATTLE ON" said the headline of the 'North-Western Evening Mail on Saturday June 3rd 1972. The story beneath told of how Barrow AFC were thrown out of the Football League.

And battle on they did. After 18 years in the football wilderness Barrow came back with a bang and on 19th May won the FA Trophy final at Wembley beating Leek Town 3-0.

For the past 10 months The FLAG has followed the fortunes of Barrow in their efforts to regain their league status. That battle still lies ahead but in this final report we sign off having proved that where there is a will there is a way!

Clash Of the White Knights

TWO FAVOURITES of The FLAG clashed at North Bridge last month when Adam Fogerty met John Westgarth.

Both boxers have been extensively covered in the paper over the last few years and on the night youth got the better of experience with the referee stopping the fight in favour of Fogerty in the fourth round.

Adam Fogerty now moves into the top ten of Britain's heavyweights and The FLAG will be following his career with interest.

Disease Fear in Water Sports

A FATAL virus spread by rats is threatening the future of water sports in this country.

Dr Sheena Watkins said the virus which causes Wells Disease can be easily contracted by people taking part in sports such as canoeing and long distance swimming.

The rats carry the disease in their kidneys and between 60 and 80% of rats are contaminated.

The virus is absorbed through eyes, ears, nose and throats of swimmers and through any cuts or abrasions. At present there is no vaccine in sight.

STREETS AHEAD: Champagne swigging Japs the winner on Derby Day

A FAT WALLET - THE ONLY WINNER AT EPSOM

Complains Colin Sykes

THE DERBY, one of Britain's most spectacular racing occasions, is becoming a bad bet for ordinary punters.

My family have been going to the famous Epsom course on Derby Day for decades. For years we could afford to park our coach in Section A, right alongside the Grandstand area and in clear view of the winning post.

But slowly and surely we and thousands like us are being driven away from the plum positions. The ticket agencies have moved in, and price rises have forced us down furlongs to just by Tattenham Corner in Section C.

If this carries on we'll end up sitting on top of Gypsy Rose Lee's caravan.

Only the big companies can afford the best positions, and they use them to entertain their clients, many of them Japanese, Arabs or Yanks.

Unless you've a fat wallet these days you haven't a hope of seeing the finishing post.

Just as in the case of Wimbledon tennis, the honest British punter is being elbowed out of one of the major national events in favour of foreign businessmen whose only interest in the occasion is how much bubbly they can knock back on company expense accounts.
